City of Canton Comprehensive Plan Community Discussion Meeting Summary

Program Summary

The Canton Comprehensive Plan is a community-driven process where the Canton Steering Committee leads the community's effort to set priorities, support local values, and provide the general direction of the Plan. In an effort to support this approach, Community Building Partnership (CBP) was contracted to sponsor a series of community meetings to solicit input, feedback, and advice from community residents from all walks of life. Utilizing the City's ward system to ensure geographic coverage of the entire City, nine community meetings were conducted during the months of September and October 2014. All meetings were open to all residents regardless of location.

Joining CBP in conducting these meetings was David Boehlke and Stephanie Barnes-Simms from the czb consulting group. Each meeting was organized in a similar manner and with a uniform agenda including:

- Introductions and Welcome by the Ward council member and Mayor, when present;
- A presentation on Comprehensive Planning and Comprehensive Plans, presented by Stephanie Barnes-Simms, focused on the 3 major traits of Comp Plans: a) being community-driven; b) based upon current reality; and c) built-in flexibility to deal with changes in the future.
- A significant presentation on the current reality in Canton by reviewing the initial data as gathered by the czb consulting group team since mid-summer was presented by David Boehlke.
- Three group exercises to solicit feedback, input, priority-setting recommendations, and "specialness" of Canton allowed for uniform/consistent participation at each meeting and provided written, direct community content for consideration by the Steering Committee.

The czb/Canton website <http://czb.org/city-of-canton-ohio/> (password: canton5) contains video recordings of each meeting for public review, the PowerPoint presentation on Comprehensive Planning and the Initial Data as presented at each meeting, and the group exercise responses, which are tabulated below.

Question #2

The planning process begins with an assessment of what’s working, what’s not working, who’s moving in, who’s moving out, what are properties worth, how are businesses doing and what kind of physical and financial shape is the city in. Statistical data can help with that assessment but it cannot tell the entire story. E.g. student teacher ratios won’t tell us if parents feel that students are getting a good education. Data on downtown retail sale won’t tell us if residents feel that the downtown is making a comeback. Based on your experience, what would you add to the story of the City of Canton’s current reality? What part of the story of what’s working and not working are we missing?

What’s working? (Total # of Responses = 54)

- 13 Community/economic development
(e.g.,HOF, downtown restaurants, cultural events, etc.)
- 21 City government/city services/land bank

Question #3
